

January 30th, 1952.

Dear Miss Epps,

Forgive my long delay in answering your kind letter with the most interesting account of the life and work of your distinguished brother.

He must have been a very unusual man and a worthy son not only of your dear mother but of your father whom I once had the privilege of seeing, ~~and~~ I like to think that he carried on the endearing qualities which were indicated in that famous Academy picture of your father sitting at the bedside of a sick child.

I am so very happy to be still in touch through you with a family to whom ~~we~~ <sup>we</sup> owed so much.

With love,
Affectionately yours,

E. Kitching

Dear Miss Kelsey,

Albany

29th, March

Parts of this article are lifted from Lit. rev. of the English Lakes - by my husband - But I do not feel that the article is by him.

I think it is from the Carleton Journal,

but of this I cannot be sure.

The Editor of the Pennell paper

used to write under the name of Northerner. = Daniel Scott.

i4p1CMC423

i4p2CMC423

An inquiry to Ed. Carver Journal
as to the identity of "Borden"
myself that the truth.

are the same part about 2000
to be let. association

Yours

E. H. Hawley.